I think the proposed settlement is bad idea.

I am sending you this because I understand that Microsoft is doing their darndest to flood you with comments backing their side and i want you to know that there are those of us out here who view Microsoft as a predatory monopolist that must be effectively regulated in order for innovation to thrive.

In spite of Microsoft's hype and PR campaign, I challenge anyone to come up with one successful program that originated at Microsoft. All they do is buy, steal, trick and intimidate.
